

Figure 9: This figure shows a regional, stratigraphic cross section oriented generally from north to south. Each well in the section displays a normalized gamma ray curve with geocolumn shading. Yellow shading represents the interval from the top Oswego to the top Mississippian-Pennsylvanian unconformity. Note the gradual but persistent increase in interval thickness towards the south (right).